“I am you, and you are me . . .”

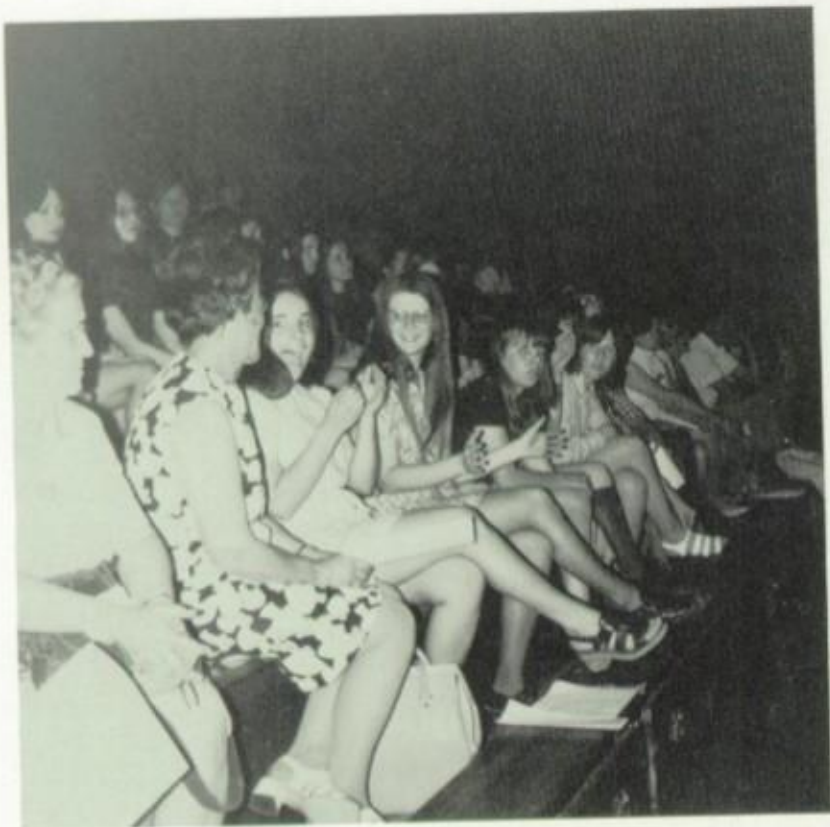

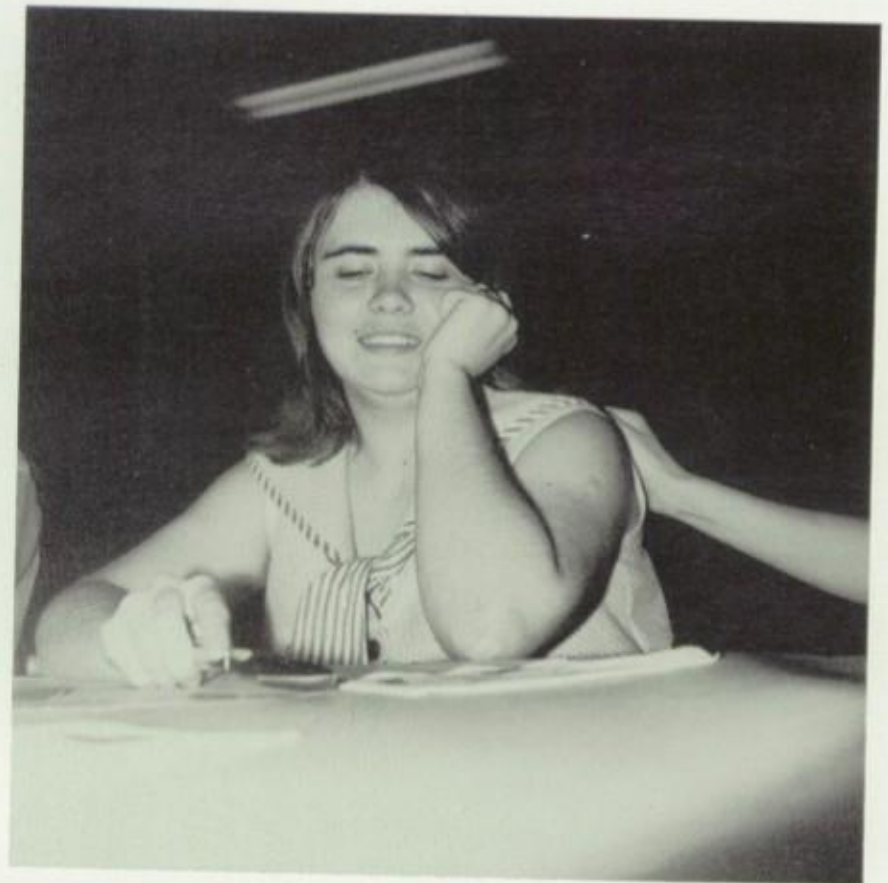

...and we are one together."

It's an important feeling today to be individual and independent. By the time one reaches high school, this "essential selfness" can be one of the greatest enjoyments of life.

Because of these feelings, students at times have a terrible problem in trying to unite. At Williamsport, we can be a unified body whenever the need arises. In spite of our unique personalities, we care for each other. Because we have grown up and faced many problems together, we are a part of each other. Without each other, we are incomplete. "I am you, and you are me, and we are ONE TOGETHER."

Awards . . .

Len Sell was awarded "The Most Valuable Player Award" for basketball.

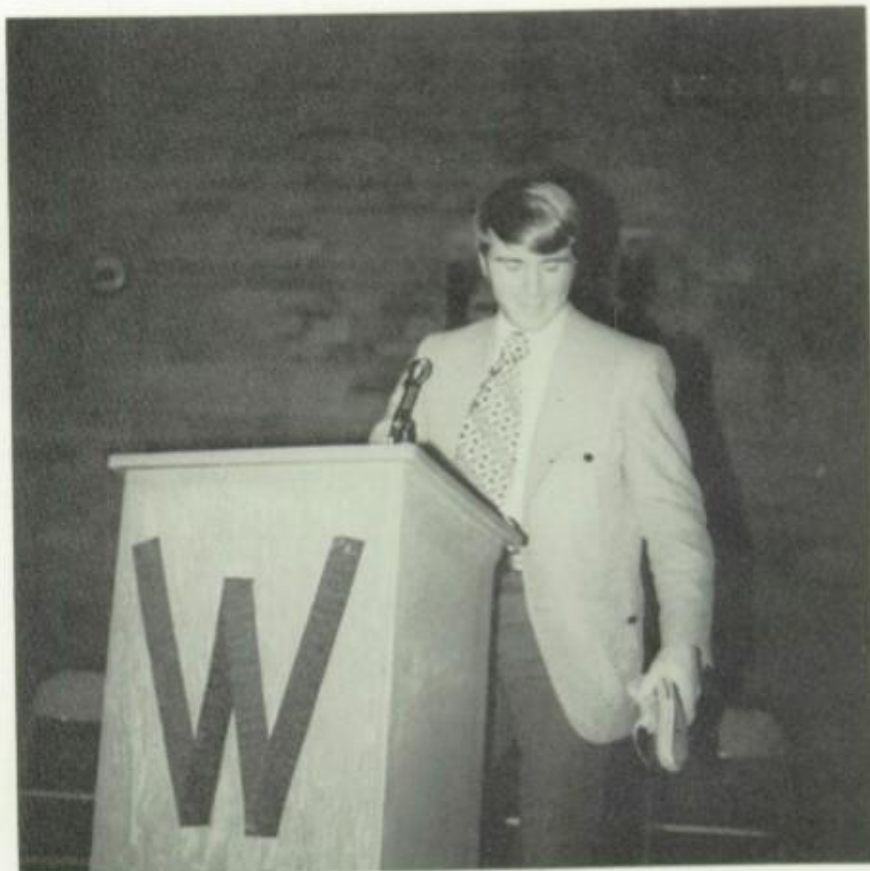

The Mental Attitude Award for basketball went to Bill McAdams, along with "The Most Valuable Player" for cross country.

Mike Barnhart was recognized as the most improved basketball player.

Todd Wagner and Len Sells were recognized as the Co-Captains of this year's Varsity team.

Jim Wertz received the "Old Shoe" for the most errors on the team this year. Jim redeemed himself by making the most assists throughout the season. Everyone was equally proud of him.

Jeanne Kane proved that a small school can have great talent when the National Poetry Press published some of her work in their "Anthology of High School Poetry."

Mary Beth Dickey was the Williamsport DAR winner. She went on to take first place in the county.

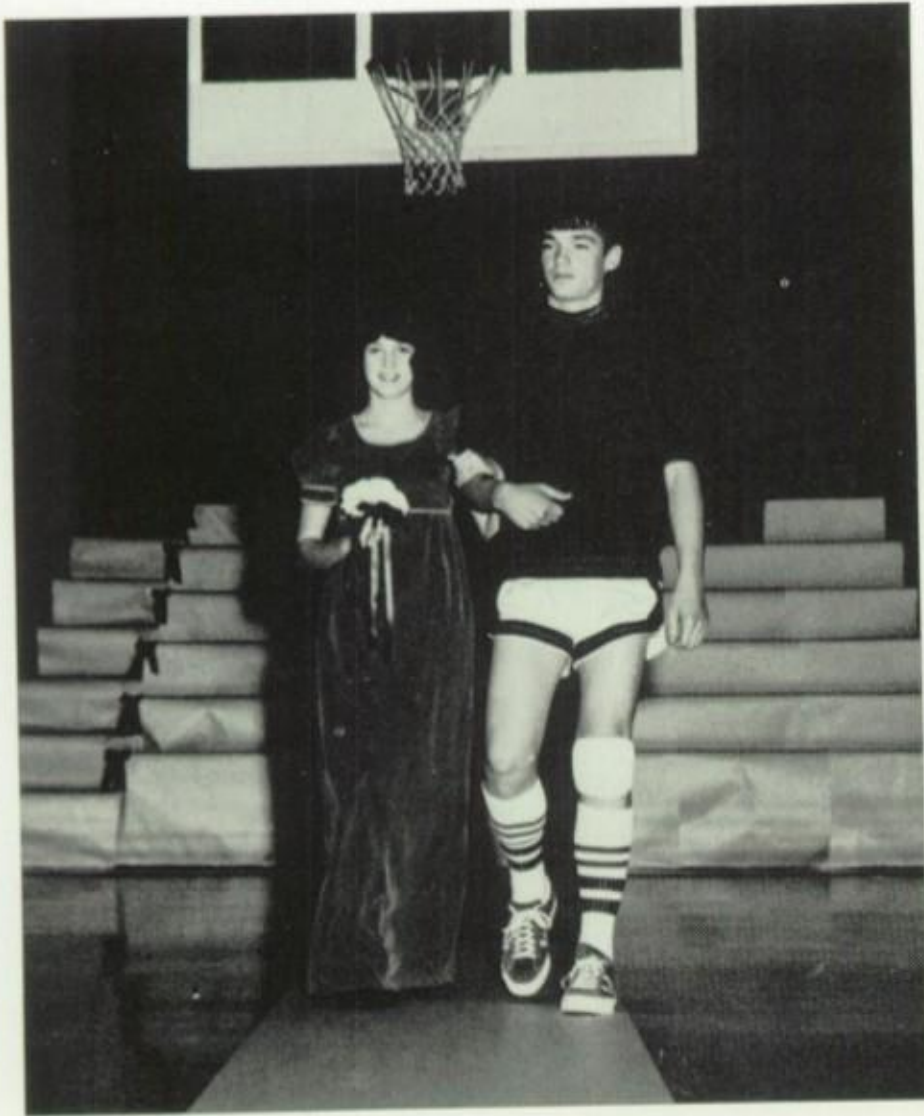

...and things worth mentioning.

Four new members were inducted into National Honor Society this spring. (STANDING) Mable Jordan, Randy Kane, (SEATED) Sandi Carlson, Jackie Walters.

A homecoming story . . .

The candidates were escorted into the gym before a silent crowd - like Connie with Neal.

A crown, roses, and a victory over Rosedale set the backdrop for eight radiant girls - our homecoming queen and her court.

Our homecoming this year was a total success. Student Council conducted the activities during halftime of the Rosedale vs. Williamsport Varsity game.

The court was made up of: Diane Perry, Lori Branz, Connie Wood, Trudy Schmid, Mickie Joiner, Sharon Lilly, Sherry Brown, and Mary Beth Dickey.

Mary Beth was crowned queen by the retiring queen, Kathy Martin. The queen and her court were escorted to their places of honor.

The moment we'd been waiting for - Kathy places the crown on Mary Beth's head.

Flowers and a hug from a close friend make the night complete.

Beffer and a smile add to the night's success.

“Stairway to the Stars”—

Couples danced to the music of Ray Gretencord and the Cosmopolitans. "Snake" played at the after prom, but by that time of the morning, few people really knew what was going on!

New dresses and nice dates make a wonderful combination.

On Saturday, May 6, the Junior class presented the Seniors with the efforts of a week of hard work, several months of dreams, and a lot of fun: the 1972 Prom "Stairway to the Stars".

Many hours of concession stand working, planning sessions, and general frustration preceded the final product. The time was well worth the results. The evening held many moments that will never be forgotten.

Servers for the evening were Cathy Stitt and Bobbie Wilson.

— A Prom to remember.

The Prom is a good time to see some old faces mixed in with the regular ones. Kathy Martin and her date, Bob Abel, are standing near the staircase--after Kathy found that she couldn't stand on it.

Commencement night

Graduates wait for last minute instructions before graduation exercises begin.

Freshmen girls carried candles for the occasion.

Wendy Freeman and Bill McAdams were honored as Valedictorian and Salutatorian.

The Class of 1972 sang "We've Only Just Begun", something very appropriate for a group with so much ambition.

Jubilant screams of joy (and relief) filled the air . . .

. . . followed by the laughter and tears of the climax of twelve important years of life.

CLASSES

Endless rules
And learning.
Learning to be
A proper young lady?
No--just to be me.

Languages—foreign and local

Do Sophomores always look this eager?

The language department at WHS expanded this year to include French. With a few students learning to speak French, and several learning more Spanish, and EVERYONE RE-learning to speak English - it was hard to tell what one might hear in the halls.

It's really amazing what a student finds he's been saying and writing wrong for ages when he gets into a high school English class. Students at WHS probably wrote more themes, reports, and term papers and took more spelling tests than in any other school in the state!

College English takes a lot of concentration and imagination. Barry's using all he's got to finish his theme.

Lisa found that it took a little extra time to complete her independent study assignment.

Robert pauses a minute before class to notice a poster on Peru in the hall.

Spanish classes learned more of the language and explored the customs of Spanish speaking people. Two Spanish people talked to the classes and the students were very impressed (especially the girls.) Later in the year, Spanish II and III tried their skills at preparing a memorable (?) Spanish dinner.

Nothing like getting up in front of the class and THEN forgetting what you're supposed to be doing, right Cathy?

Being one of three boys in French I could prove to be a nerve-racking experience.

French, like most languages, takes time, effort, and memorization to master. Even taking it your Senior year could be a real advantage, though.

Lisa's mind seems to be a million miles away from government class - and that's just where Mr. Shields probably wanted the Senior boys: a million miles from class.

Junior high social studies, world history, U.S. history, government, economics . . . . with a list of subjects like this, WHS kids had a wide opportunity to learn much about the world. How much one learned was up to him. With all the things going on, one couldn't help soaking up a little knowledge - even against his own will.

The Seniors (or at least the girls) look interested in their Econ. assignment.

There's always a little turmoil in the eighth grade classes before a test or quiz.

Sciences . . .

Many times in Chemistry class, it took ten minutes to do an experiment and three days to write out what you did.

Science class at WHS was a different thing for each age level involved. For the Junior High it was science and health. For the Freshmen it was an hour in the lab everyday looking at specimens and studying plants and animals. (Plus a few extra hours outside hunting for the right leaves and flowers probably due the day before.) For the Juniors it was finding out who had their lab written up and discussing what the lucky letter would be on the oncoming multiple choice Chemistry test. For the Seniors in Physics class it was absorbing a little knowledge and messing up the lab for the Juniors! For everyone it was an experience.

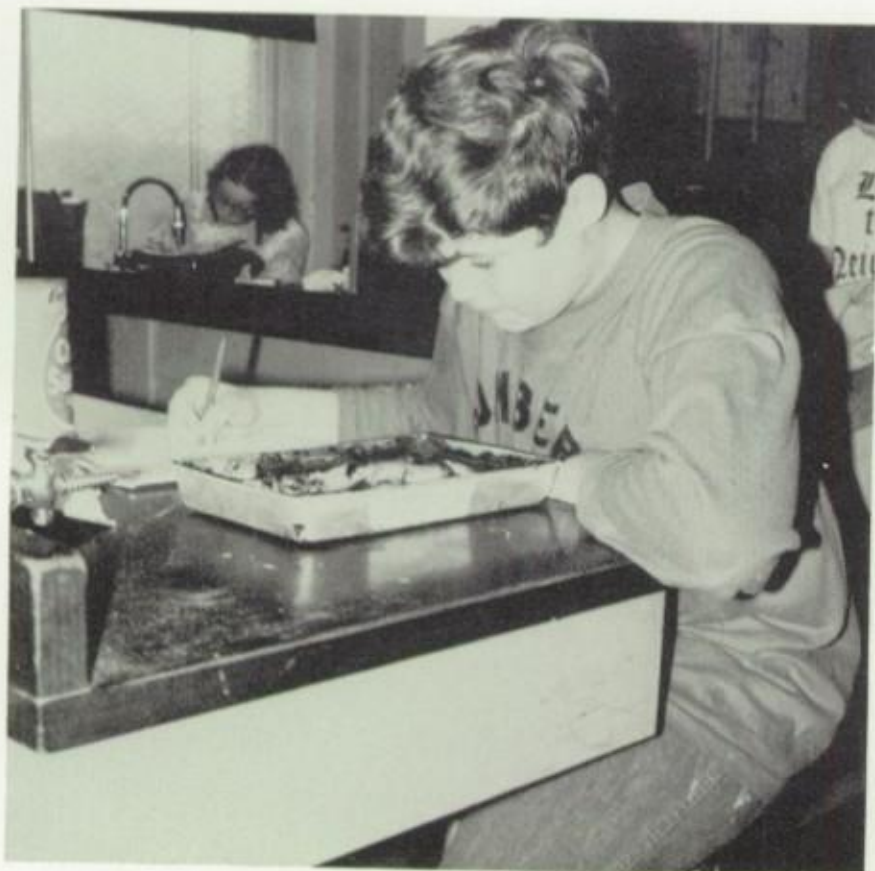

Alvin, Neal, and Mike made quite a few remarks and observations on the back row. Some concerned Chemistry--some didn't.

A miscellaneous group took a course of General Science offered to the high school this year.

...for tomorrow.

Glenn Kesler finds that seeing something and then trying to draw what you see is two entirely different things.

With a crew like these guys in the back, it couldn't have been very educational--but it was probably a lot of fun.

Connie Cox and Kenna Hawn had the pleasure (?) of being the only two girls in the General Science class.

The Math department at WHS expanded this year. Besides having the normal classes of algebra, geometry, Senior math, and general math, a computer class with a few curious and ambitious students took form for the second semester.

*Correction: There has never been a "normal" math class at WHS, or for that matter, ANY normal class at WHS.

A group of Sophomore boys could find something funny in any class.

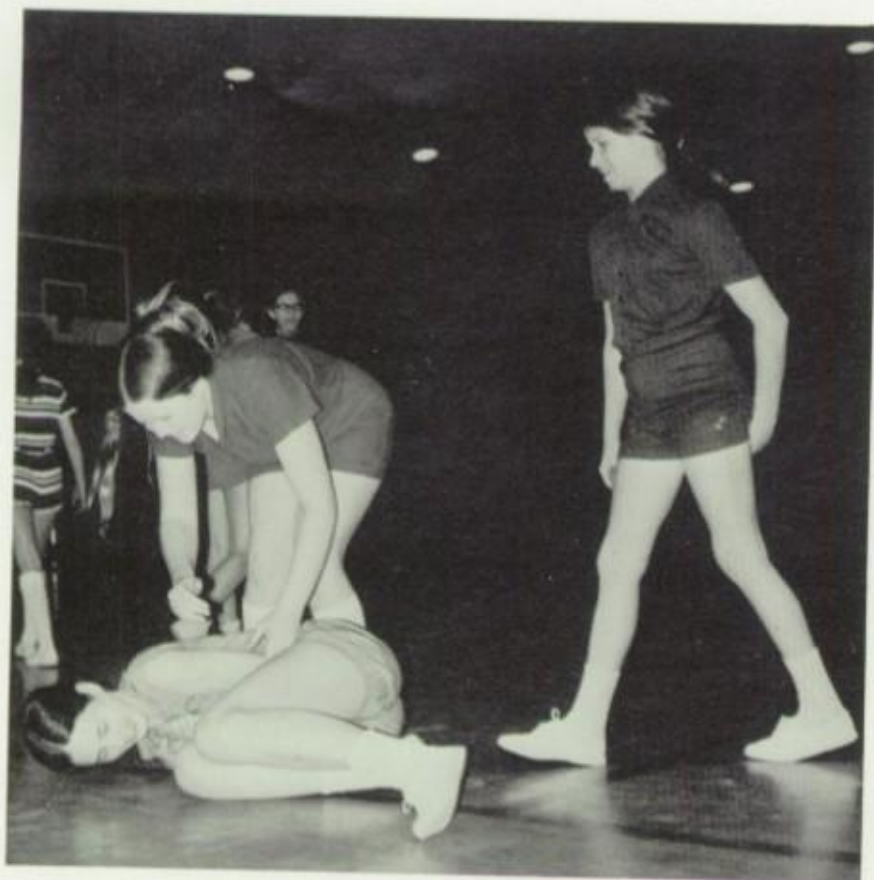

Working simple equations is a basic part of advanced mathematics. When someone can show you an easier way, everyone watches.

Phys. Ed.

The best time to get back at someone is to get them when they're down--really down.

When you're in Junior High (and especially if you're a girl) you often dread the hour of the day when you're forced to change into clothes suitable for physical activity in the gym. But once the exercises are over and the games begin, you realize how much fun Phys. Ed. class can be. Then when you get into High School, you really miss the chance to run around and have fun!

Does anyone ever know what Lynn's doing?

A good game of basketball is always a good way to start a class.

Volley ball can be very exhausting.

Developing Skills

It took a little for Ed to remember that the typewriter is in front of the chair.

The busiest room in the building has to be the typing room. There's never a period when someone isn't in there typing an assignment, having a class, or just practicing.

The business department at Williamsport really serves its purpose. Not only do these classes teach practical skills to students but they also set the foundation for a future in the world of business.

A typical scene taken from the balcony shows an unsuspecting typing class vigorously working away.

Even if you don't learn to type expertly, you can always build your muscles by carrying around one of the machines.

Sherr Brown was on the girls in the second semester tailoring class. This small class of girls turned out some very beautiful wool outfits.

Mr. Stroud had his hands full when he gave an introduction to typing to some sixth grade girls.

Mr. Showe demonstrates to Ray Deel the safest way to carry hot metals. The boys in the industrial arts classes this year did many repairs to broken objects around the school.

Art and Music

Two things that serve as much appreciated diversions at WHS are the art and music classes. Music classes were for the elementary and Junior High. They learned to appreciate many kinds of music and their composers.

Art classes sketched, painted, and made creations from clay. Several High School students were involved in the massive spread of creativity.

Kerry Thomas and Marietta Auxier prepare the glaze for the pots they made of clay.

Tim Ware paints the finishing touches on his first attempt at the art of sculpturing.

Debi Talbott and other Seniors painted quite a few landscapes that were on display at the end of the year.

Jay just couldn't seem to concentrate on the music at the front of the room in Mr. Pace's eighth grade music class.

Jerry Henry is busy concentrating on a quiz over composers--a real thrill when you're an eighth grader.

CLUBS

let me go with you, please.
i want to belong
with you and the others
the love we can give to each other and to ourselves can blossom-
and we might hear the music play.

Goldenrod staff

"Did you know that as a result of all these bakesales, carmel apple sales, popcorn ball sales, salad luncheons, etc . . . the average student at WHS has gained 2.3 lbs. in the last grading period and experienced a loss of 75.9 cents a week. Way to go, annual staff. We'll have an annual yet, even if we have to eat our way through it."

The above comment from an early publication of the newspaper really sums up the problems of money and the time and energy it takes to put a yearbook into printing. Added to these factors is the cooperation of the students and photographers.

"No, you cannot have your picture taken there . . . please stand up straight, guys . . . come on now, smile!"

There has never been a high school yearbook printed that came out perfect and pleased everyone. We can only hope that this year's shows life at Williamsport High as it is and the kids in their true prospective.

Being the Yearbook sponsor at WHS is very much like being an accountant.

“Who’s got the best band in Warren County?!”

LEFT TO RIGHT: Jill Johnson, Lori Branz, Kathy Berry, Greg Davis, Diane Perry, Matt Norton, Melinda Shoaf, Julie Ward, Lynn Branz, John Folk, Ed Wurtsbaugh, Billie Coleman, Ron Berry, Alan Smith, Mable Jordan, Dean Hughes, Greg Smith, Brent Casey, Jeff Jernagen, Kevin Thomas, Tammy Smith, Debbie Carlson, Sherri Brasker, Brenda Casey, Kathy Kinderman, Jane Foster, (behind drum) Deb Bowman

This familiar question echoed around the school on the days the band practiced outside. The booming demand was followed by an enthusiastic shout of, "Williamsport!" (Well, almost an enthusiastic shout!)

The band came a long way this year. They marched in several parades and really made people take notice of the small, but mighty, marching Bombers.

It took lots of practice and discipline. (Lots of it, Mr. Pace?!?) But we're super-proud of the results.

Student Council

The Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Stroud, started some 'policies' around the school this year. There was the one that everyone enjoyed-the coke machine in the gym, and then the one that really kept you on your toes-retrieving your lost, stolen, or strayed books from the book room. Both projects added funds to the treasury.

The "W" Club boasts a membership of eleven guys this year. The six Seniors received their jackets and the others know their turn will be soon.

FRONT ROW: Jeff Wood, Alan Smith, Mike Barnhart, Becky Benson

Sherr Brown, editor of "the comment" has more or less run a one man show this year. (Or should we say "one woman show"?) The full responsibility of publishing a newspaper was placed in her lap. She got the operation going and some interesting items were added to the paper. "Student Firsts" were always a treat, not to mention all the interesting bits and pieces. After all, where would we have been this year without Wendy and Kathy's gossip?!?

Choir

Two performing groups were 'active' this year at WHS, the swing choir and the majorettes. Both groups got new red outfits that really stand out in a crowd!

The choir entertained some local organizations, made a few trips, and even participated in the State and District festivals.

Deb, Tammy, and Melinda performed at most of the home ballgames. They, also, marched with the band and really set it off in style.

Majorettes: Debbie Bowman, Tammy Smith, Melinda Shoaf

National Honor Society

FTA

The FTA had twenty-eight members this year, and a willing sponsor, Mrs. Summers. With all the practice these kids have had, WHS should be "claiming" some good teachers in a few years. FTA members are given responsibility and freedom. Some future teachers even got the "privilege of recess duty!"

SPORTS

You are a friend.

Teach me the rules,
so I will know how to keep from being hurt.
Your rules are good for people but if you're like you, you'll

You have been hurt.

"Come on you guys! Rebound! Let's go out there . . . . get 'em! That's it . . . . shoot! This could be heard at almost any basketball game during the '71-'72 season. A few other unmentionables were added when things weren't going so great . . . but the team did really well on the whole and ended the year with a 10 and 12 record.

The guys gave WHS fans a big Christmas present when they collected the South Montgomery Tourney trophy on December 29. It was a good feeling to watch them cut those nets down . . .

Season highlight: holiday tourney

Where would the team be without the managers, Robert Cox and Joe Williams?

A typical Bomber victory . . .

A quiet moment before the game begins with the first five on the floor.

Seconds like these in a good game seem like hours - the crowd is anxious and the boys on the bench are waiting for their turn in the action.

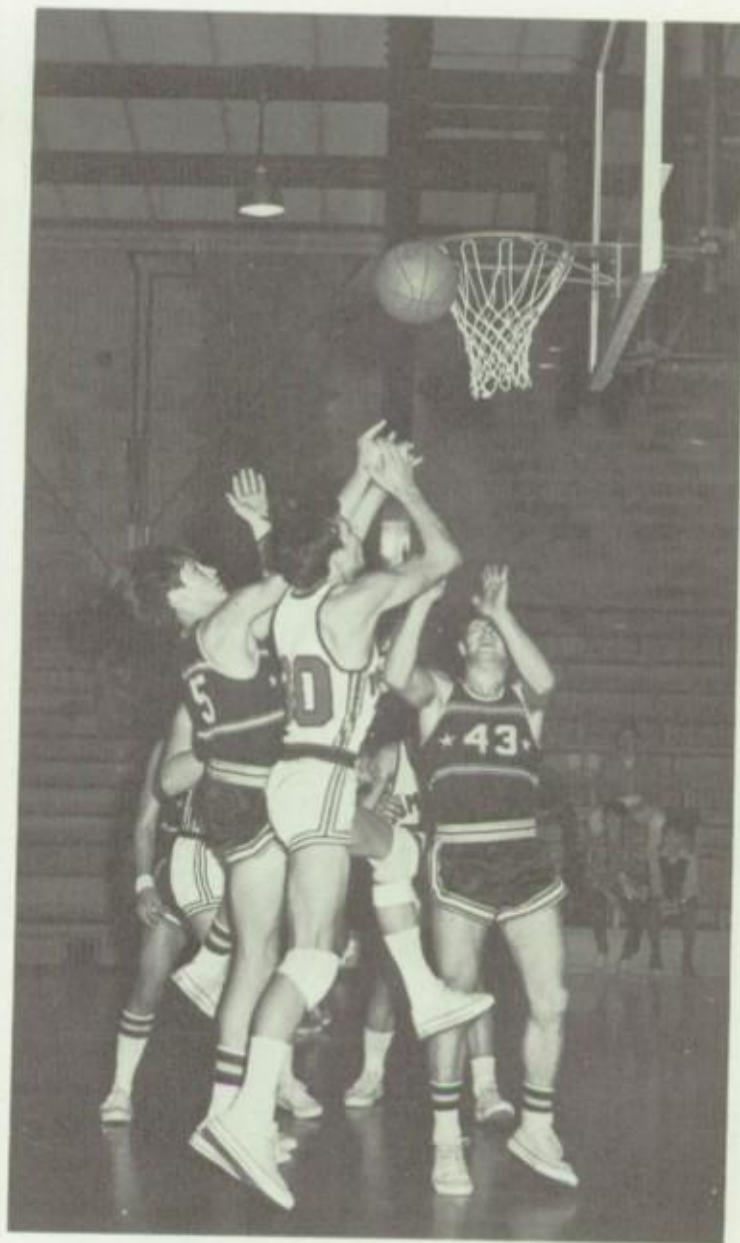

Todd makes the jump and the action begins its course for the evening.

Drowned out by the noise of the crowd, some band members get a little practice in before half-time performance.

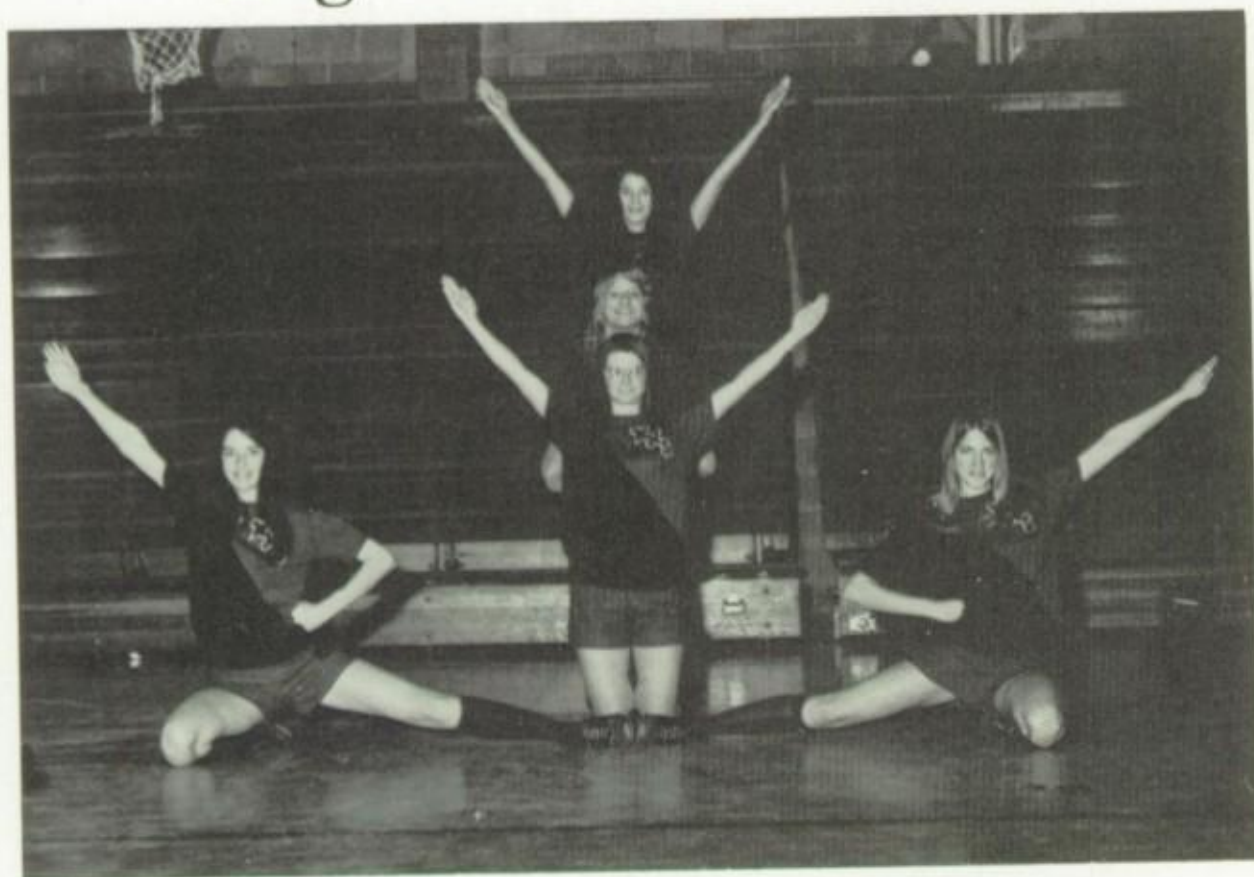

B-Team games are just as exciting and filled with Bomber action.

These guys will be a big part of next year's Varsity, and we'll be glad to have them.

“Big Bad bombers keep movin . . . !”

The Cheerleaders at WHS were faced this year with rearrangements, new rules, and a small Pep Club. With determination, they counteracted these problems by making the best of things, creating new ponchos for the club, and yelling TWICE as loud to make up for the missing cheerblock members.

All things considered, this was a pretty good season. Three of the Varsity cheerleaders were Seniors, but we hope to see lots of the others next year!

Administration

It takes a lot of time and patience to run a school - even a small school like ours. Day in and day out the same problems are encountered. Some are solved and some linger on as a constant headache for the people operating the school.

The office people have their hands full everyday with money matters, telephone calls, and making announcements . . .

"Snowballs will be thrown behind the gym only . . . Student Council will meet the first ten minutes of sixth period . . . Mr. Bryant's Junior US History class will be taking another poll today . . . please stay off of the bicycles at noon and keep your dogs at home . . ."

By the end of a regular day, the administration is more than happy to go home!

“I am not afraid of tomorrow . . .”

When the Class of 1972 chose their motto, they were well aware of the feelings of their class. NEVER has there been in the halls of Williamsport High School a class with the courage (?) and energy of the Seniors of this year. (Ask Mr. Shields, or Mrs. McHugh, or any unsuspecting underclassmen, especially a Freshman!!) Next year will never be the same . . .

"I am not afraid of tomorrow for I've seen yesterday and love today."

OFFICERS: Kathy Martin, Secretary (ON LEFT); Teresa Butler, Vice Pres. (BELOW); Wendy Freeman, Treasurer; Len Sells, President

Teresa and Leanne pause before "going their separate ways" as many of the Senior did at the end of the first semester.

When you're a Senior guy and possess a letter jacket, you can afford to go around looking "superior".

Juniors

Several Juniors showed their talent by joining the choir. (Everyone knows how Greg loves to sing.)

1973

At the beginning of the year the Junior Class found itself few in number, "disunited", and faced with the tremendous task of raising a lot of money. The Junior year of high school has to be the MOST trying year-- both to students and sponsors. It took 99.9% of everyone's effort to get things moving in the right direction. It took many contributed hours of work and patience (plus a few unfriendly "discussions") to account for this year's success.

Now that it's over, we only think about the fun and feelings of accomplishment we gained--and of the future joy of being Seniors next fall!

To find the entire Junior class working is truly a rare occasion!

Sophomores

OFFICERS: Jim Hurley, President; Connie Wood (in swing) Vice Pres.; Cathy Stitt, Sec.; Vickie Ware, Treas.

Bobbie looks pretty serious about what she's typing. It must be an English paper!

Kevin was quite a talent with the drums. He helped the choir out with their popular numbers.

Cathy, like a lot of other Sophomores, spent a lot of time in the typing room.

What is a Sophomore?
Well . . . it's older than a Freshman-but not quite as old as the uppermen.
It's an "in-between". These Sophomores didn't let this limitation bother them and their "activities", shall we say. Any place there was action-there was bound to be a Sophomore around. One thing we can say, you have got a head start on being a Junior!

Mary doesn't seem too concerned about all the books she's taking home.

CLASSES of 1974

Freshmen

TOP ROW: Jeff Arnold, Tom Benson, Kathy Berry, Lori Branz, Brenda Casey, Brent Casey, Thelma Cheesman, Dave Coleman, Kathy Cox, Dave Farris, SECOND ROW: Penny Ford, Jane Foster, Robbin Fowler, Jim Griffis, Bill Haddock, Russ Haddock, Kenna Hawn, Marketa Holliman, Elvira Howard, Paul Howard, THIRD ROW: Jim Jernagan, Jill Johnson, Glen Kessler, Leslie Lucas, Cindy McAdams, Susan Miles, Matt Norton, Dianne Perry, Cindy Sewell, James Shackelford, FOURTH ROW: Teresa Slinker, Alon Smith, Dick Swadley, Scott Tallbott, Mary Turner, Kathy Waterstraat, Julie Ward, Bob Wertz, Bobbi Wood Dave Wood

1975

Julie and Dianne display the muscle capacity of their new shirts.

The Freshmen changed a few traditions this year--ordering class rings a year early and buying class jerseys. (That turned out to be more like class dresses. Right, girls?)

The girls had a few hassles with Senior girls over articles of clothing, but other than that, the Freshmen survived initiation unharmed--and ready to live another year.

The Freshmen are generally a happy group. You rarely see Penny without a smile.

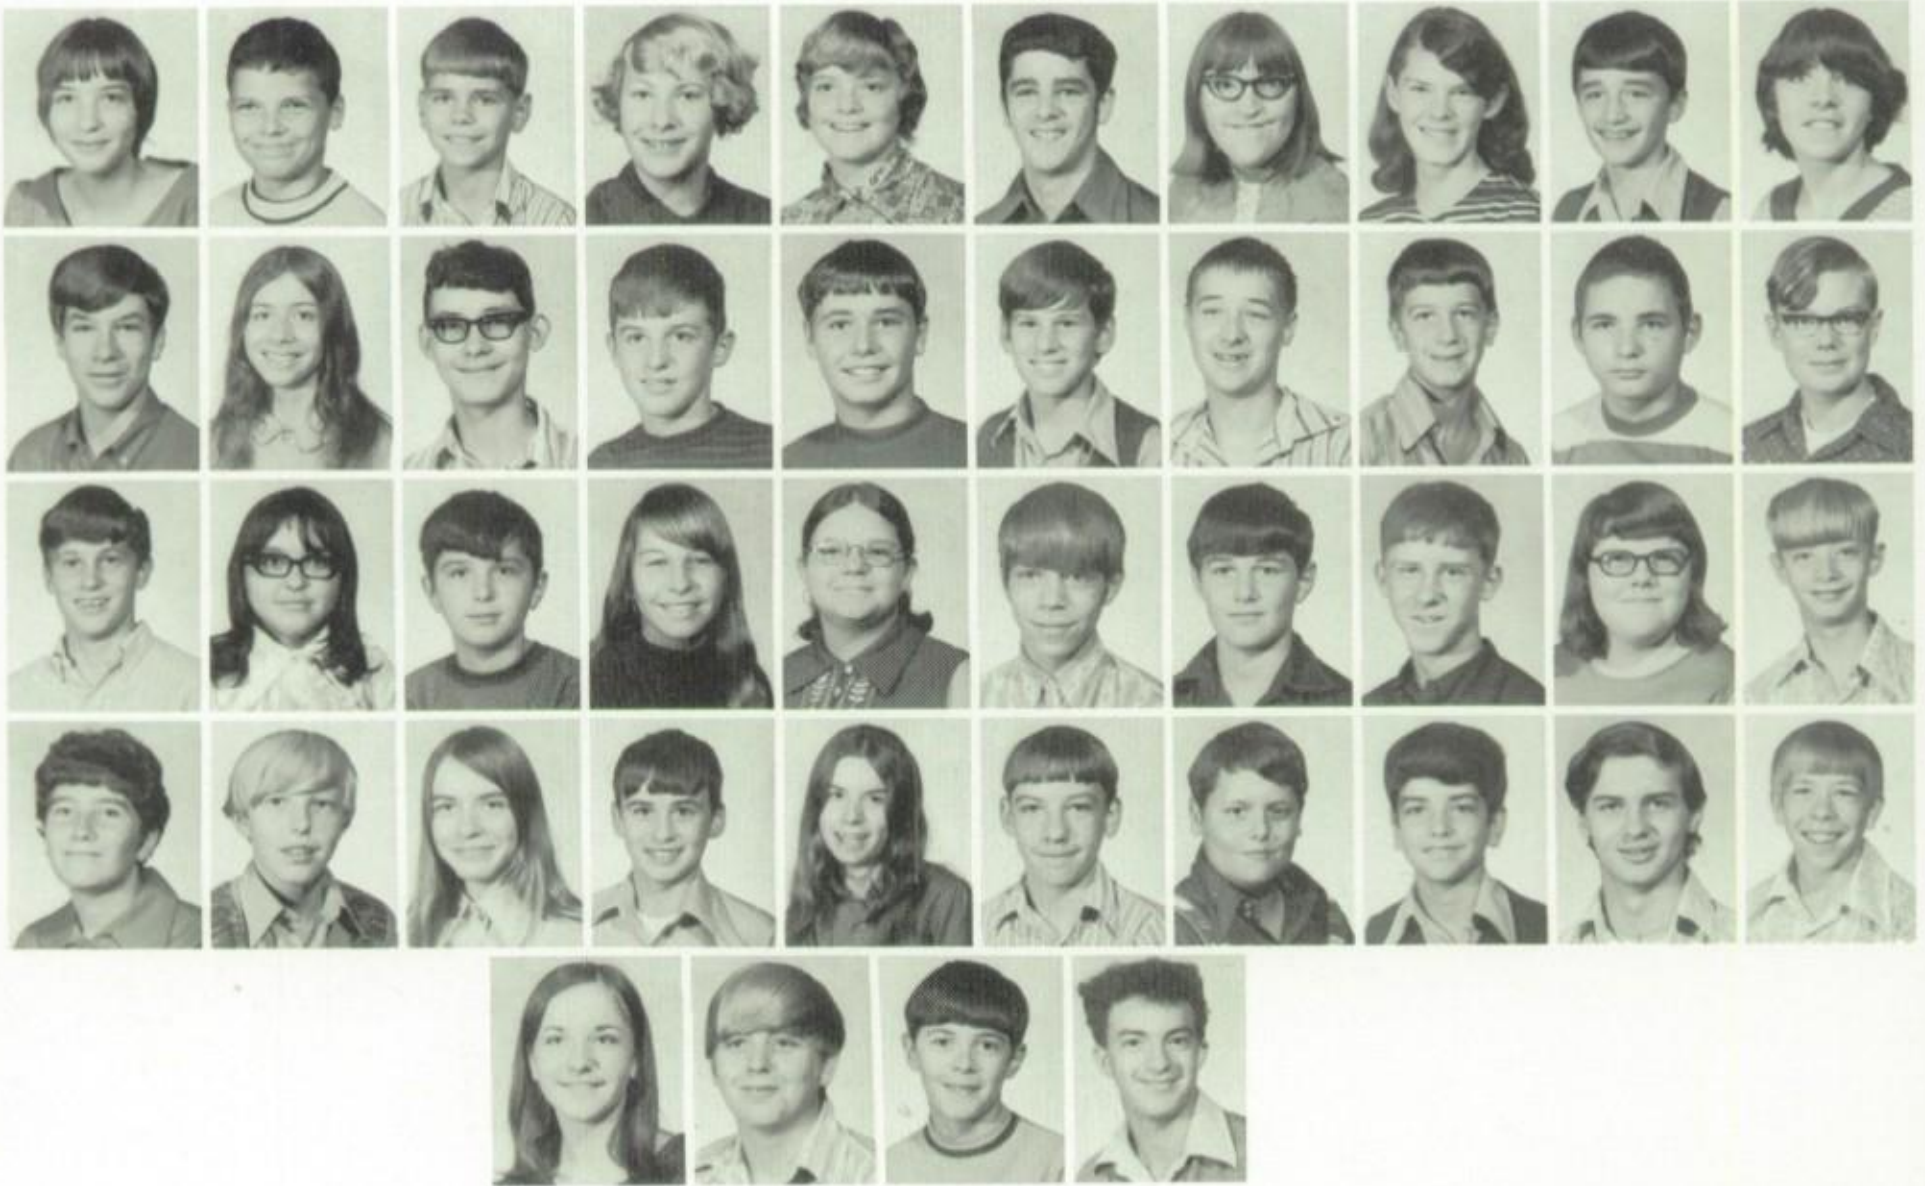

Kathy Waterstraat is either displaying a new ring or showing an upperclassmen one of the counting skills that the Freshmen learned in Algebra I!

The Freshmen were a welcome addition to the teacher's aids this year. Kathy Cox helped a third grader with his reading.

Eighth Grade

The 8th graders do get down to some serious work once in awhile . . . or at least Becky Deel (and a few other girls) find a LITTLE time for studying!

Did you ever try to find ONE eighth grader? It's impossible! You have to find a group of them and then sort out the one you wanted. They aren't what one could call "loners". This quality (?) of sticking together will really be an asset when they're in high school. We hope they keep this and their fun-loving ways going for a long while.

OFFICERS: Sherri Brasker, Secretary; Vice Pres., Mike Bratton; Scott Davis, Treasurer; Joe Smith, Reporter; Kathy Kinderman, President

1976 CLASS of

Seventh Grade

OFFICERS: Brad Johnson, V. Pres.; Max Brasker, President; Jackie Bratton, Treasurer; Margie Deel, Sec.

The Seventh graders weren't an unusually large group this year. (Although most wouldn't admit it, the pace was a little faster and more frightening than Mr. Hensley's sixth grade class!)

Through some miracle, these kids managed to stay out from under upperclassmen's feet long enough to be headed in the eighth grade direction--one more giant step through the struggles of high school.

The Seventh Graders didn't learn to cause trouble in study halls until later in the year. Lynn and these boys were putting the time to good use.

CLASS of 1977

Before the game got under way, Matt and Max had to figure out how to put up the net.

Together in the Elementary*

*elementary-1. first principles
2. introductory 3. simple

Simple?! Being a kid in 1972 is far from being simple. With so much going on in the world, there's a lot more to be aware of. It takes double-concentration to absorb everything. The younger set at Williamsport is a lively one. You can be sure they don't let anything go unnoticed!

"Take your time and do it right!"

Ed,
The past has been really great so the future can't be anything but better. I really think this year will be fun since we are class officers. I hope everything goes your way. May you find it in your high heart to remember our many times together. May God bless you always.

Possibly,
ROBERTA
